Description

Join our Pediatric Mental Health House Calls Series, designed to equip healthcare providers with the skills to assess, diagnose, and treat various mental health disorders in children and adolescents. House Calls series highlights a specific pediatric mental health disorder or related topic, providing comprehensive knowledge on assessment, diagnosis, and treatment strategies. With case analysis to illustrate key learning points and practical applications. To better serve healthcare professionals, we offer flexible scheduling tailored to your needs. Our hybrid format combines online and in-person sessions, accommodating diverse learning preferences. Our mission is to provide expert-driven, evidence-based pediatric mental health resources, enhancing care quality for pediatric patients. Ideal for primary care providers, pediatricians, and mental health professionals, House Calls series helps expand your skills in pediatric mental health. Enroll now to secure your spot in this adaptable learning series.
