Speaker: George Vascellaro, D.O.

Dr. George "Adam" Vascellaro, D.O. an AOBFP Certified Osteopathic Family Physician who graduated from OSU-COM in 1999 and completed his residency at the rural OSU-COM Durant Family Practice Residency. He was born in Oklahoma and this is home.

Dr. Vascellaro has always been an employed physician by choice for optimal work / life balance. He has variety of valuable medical practice experience doing family practice, workers compensation, urgent care, fast-track ER, float and others.

In the latter half of his career there has been a transition to medical administration which is also where he plans to finish his career. He has served as an Associate Medical Director, Medical Director and Chief Medical Officer by title but in reality for 3 plus years this has been a physician executive role medical professional duties involving those of Chief Medical Officer and operational duties of a Secretary of Health role.

Has been a proactive leader in Tribal Healthcare throughout the COVID-19 Crisis serving and protecting the highest risk population for morbidity and mortality as well as performing a key visionary leadership decision tree in anticipating the need for and acquiring the -70 degree Celsius Ultra-cold freezers to accommodate being a regional hub for the Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine for the Oklahoma City Area - Indian Health Service and the Oklahoma State Health Department.

Was featured as the opening speaker in a "United We Stand" commercial about how Oklahoma Tribes served not only their populations during the COVID-19 crisis but also their communities.

INTENSIVE DIABETES MANAGEMENT SERVICE:
EXTENDING PATIENT ACCESS TO CARE THROUGH
PHARMACY BASED CLINICS

James Chapple, Pharm.D.

Captain James Chapple has worked for the Cherokee Nation Health System as a Pharmacist for 22 years.

TOPICS & SPEAKERS

He graduated from the Southwestern Oklahoma State University College of Pharmacy in 1997 and University of Oklahoma College of Pharmacy in 2003 with a B.S. and Doctor of Pharmacy respectively. He graduated in 2016 from Oklahoma State University with a Master's in Healthcare Administration. He is also a Board Certified Pharmacotherapy Specialist (BCPS) by the Board of Pharmacy Specialties and a Certified Diabetes Care and Education Specialist by the Certification Board for Diabetes Care and Education.

CAPT Chapple currently serves as the Director of Pharmacy Clinical Services for the Tahlequah Campus, Pharmacy Intern Coordinator, and Pharmacist-In-Charge of the CN W.W. Hastings Outpatient Pharmacy.

Alena Korbut, Pharm.D., BCPS, M.H.A.

LCDR Korbut was born and raised in Belarus, and moved to the United States in 2003.

In 2010, she started her journey of education at State College of Florida (SCF) and in 2013 graduated with Associates in Arts, summa cum laude. While attending SCF, she took a pharmacy technician course and became a Certified Pharmacy Technician. Although she never worked as a technician, it played a vital role in her decision to become a pharmacist. In May 2013, Lcdr Korbut was accepted to LECOM School of Pharmacy.

During pharmacy school, Lcdr Korbut learned about the United States Public Health Service (USPHS) through a meeting with a USPHS officer at the school career fair. In the summer of 2015, she applied to the USPHS and was accepted as a Junior Commissioned Officer Externship Program (JRCOSTEP) to serve the American Indian population of the Navajo Nation in Fort Defiance, AZ. During that summer she discovered where her heart belongs and her future direction. In the summer of 2016, Lcdr Korbut completed a second JRCOSTEP internship at Yakama Service Unit in Washington State and prepared herself for her future residency with Indian Health Service (IHS).

Upon her graduation in 2017 with Doctor of Pharmacy Degree, Lcdr Korbut was fortunate to be accepted into one of the longest running IHS residency programs at Cherokee Nation W.W. Hastings Hospital in Oklahoma. Upon completion of her residency in 2018, Lcdr Korbut was offered a position as a clinical pharmacist at W.W. Hastings Hospital and was able to continue Commissioned Corps career. In 2019, Lcdr Korbut received her Board Certification in Pharmacotherapy and was awarded Junior Pharmacist of the Year award for Oklahoma Area IHS.

During her residency she spearheaded the use of Continuous Glucose Monitors (CGMs) for our >250 uncontrolled diabetic patients (A1C>9%) within the pharmacy IDMS (2019-2021).

During her time at Cherokee Nation Outpatient Health Center, Lcdr took a role of Acting Intensive Diabetes Clinic Manager and established new strategy to accommodate patients during COVID-19; designed and implemented patient-provider model, which assigns patients to a specific pharmacist to allow development of better patient-provider relationships and more consistent care plans. Lcdr's passion about reaching out to our community and the need for public health education continued to grow leading to Lcdr's establishment of the Northeastern Oklahoma Surgeon General's Education Team (SGET). Lcdr serves as appointed Team Lead for Northeastern Oklahoma SGET and recruited 24 multi-disciplinary officers to deliver public health educational lessons. Team hosted 15 presentations educating over 1000 contacts on vaping and opioid misuse (2020-2021).

In 2021, Lcdr Korbut received her Master's in Healthcare Administration to further her career.

She truly enjoys her work and inspires others to apply for residency and join Indian Health Service Team. Lcdr Korbut is married and has two wonderful daughters and a son, who always have been a part of her pharmacy life.

OVERCOMING BARRIERS TO HCV TREATMENT IN TRIBAL HEALTHCARE ORGANIZATIONS

Ashton Clayborn, D.O.

Dr. Clayborn received her undergraduate education at Northeastern State University and then attended medical school at Oklahoma State University College of Osteopathic Medicine. Dr. Clayborn went on to finish residency in Talihina, OK at Choctaw Nation Family Medicine residency in 2017. After spending a short time in private practice, she was afforded the opportunity to practice her passion of teaching in medicine as faculty for Choctaw Nation's Family Medicine Residency Program before being appointed Program Director in 2021. When she is not serving in the mission of training rural, primary care physicians, Dr. Clayborn enjoys spending time with her husband and four children watching their sporting events or on their small farm now located near Quinton.

Weston Lovell, Pharm.D.

LCDR Weston Lovell started his pharmacy career as staff pharmacist for the Cherokee Nation Health Care System at Three Rivers Health Center in 2010. He became a Commissioned Officer in the United States Public Health Service in 2012. Lovell played a large roll in starting the pharmacist managed HCV clinic in the Cherokee Nation Healthcare System before transferring to the Choctaw Nation in 2016. In the Choctaw Nation he has served as a clinical pharmacist in the inpatient and outpatient setting. He is currently the pharmacy informaticist for the Choctaw Nation, a Pharmacy Billing Specialist and serves as founder/director of the CNHSA HCV Program and High-cost medication Program. Most recently Lovell was awarded the Southwestern Oklahoma State University Young Pharmacist Achievement Award.

MEDICATION ASSISTED TREATMENT FOR OPIOID ADDICTION – PROPER PRESCRIBING

Kelly Dunn, M.D.

Kelly Dunn, M.D., currently serves as executive director of clinical treatment at NCWR in Tulsa, Oklahoma. She is also clinical assistant professor of psychiatry and behavioral sciences at OSU Center for Health Sciences. She received her medical degree from the University of Oklahoma College of Medicine and is board certified in addiction medicine and psychiatry. Dunn enjoys seeing generations positively impacted by holistic, evidence-based treatment for addictive behaviors at the NCWR Addiction Recovery Clinic. "The transformative process of recovery often causes patients to be more resilient and lead a fuller life than if they never had to face an addiction at all," shares Dunn.
